I went there and got there around 5:45PM. When I went in there were already some people but they went in around 5:45PM so it wasn't too crowded at all. There was about 20 people in the store. I asked if they did demos and they said they were going to sometime in the near future. Sometime around 7:00PM they started to demo the game so it is very early in the game. I got to play the demo and it was a very good one. They got to the point where they had to walk through the forest and they were walking through it and it was raining. Then it got dark and the demo ended and they told us that they'll have more demos on Monday. They also gave out stickers and samples of the game. Hmm I've heard people said it's REALLY hard for them to demo it, so I guess they just have a couple of people demoing it and no one can walk through the forest and take pictures. :( Yes, I believe that they are doing this early demo to get the information out and gather feedback and to gauge if there is a market for this game. (one reason why they want feedback as to what the members think of the demo.) I like the game quite a bit and 182157476af
